SILAB, a sustainable company

SILAB is an independent and innovation-based company, pioneer in the field of research and industrialization of natural active ingredients since its creation in 1984. Its objective is to sublimate Nature through scientific and technological innovation for the beauty and health of the skin. All of its active ingredients are derived from its own research and manufactured in its single site.

In accordance with its founding values - Independence, Excellence, Quality - SILAB works in a societal approach devoted to both humankind and respect of the planet.
